Dear Admiral Ingersoll:

Upon returning to my office from a brief visit to Europe, your letter of 16 June concerning my talk at the War College was brought to my attention.

It was very thoughtful of you to write to me as you did and I want you to know how much I have enjoyed my visits with you at the College. Upon your retirement after so many years of dedicated service to your country, I would like to wish you every happiness.

With kindest personal regards.

Sincerely,
